ACADEMIC SUPPORT RESOURCES

Homework Log: Keep your daily planner up to date (assignments & due dates, test dates, etc.). Make sure all work is Done Done! Not just done, but it is complete, with name and date, in your backpack or notebook, and ready to turn in.

After-School Peer Tutoring: FREE peer tutoring is available in the library Monday-Thursday from 2:15-4:15pm. Drop-ins are welcome!

Free Online Tutoring: Paper.co is a free tutoring service for all students to use in IUSD. They log in using their school username and password. This service is with a live credentialed teacher and for any, and all, subjects, including essay/writing review.

Academy: This after-school program is offered for students in need of additional support with organizing, tracking and completing their school work. Although this program is optional, once signed-up students are expected to attend regularly or they will be dropped to accommodate other students interested in the program. Speak to your Counselor to sign up.

Parent Portal: Report Cards will NOT be mailed home. All parents should have an online MyIUSD Parent Portal account to check attendance and grades. Progress reports, quarter grade reports, and semester grade reports will be posted on Parent Portal for parents' viewing. Teachers are only required to report progress reports for students with C- and below.

How is my child doing in their classes?

If you have questions regarding your student's academic performance, we encourage you to communicate with the teachers first. The most efficient communication is via email since teachers cannot answer phone calls during instructional time. The comprehensive list of teacher emails and voicemail extensions can be found through the Staff Directory on the UHS Website.

Parents and students may also utilize my.iusd.org to check grades and track missing assignments

Progress Reports are posted on my.iusd.org halfway through each quarter. Teachers are expected to report C- or lower grades at this time. All teachers issue grade reports at the quarter and semester grading periods. We encourage parents to regularly check their student's grades via my.iusd.org.

What if my student is doing poorly in class?

1. First, discuss with your student to see if you can discover the root of the problem...
"Are you thoroughly completing all of your homework?"
"Do you study for the class every night?"
"Is there a personal problem hindering your academic success?"
2. If your student needs additional academic help, see that they are utilizing office hours and after school tutoring. Peer tutors are on campus 4 days a week (Monday-Thursday) from 2:15-4:15 in the library.
3. The next step is to speak with the teacher. Discuss with the teacher your concerns and ask for their professional insight regarding your student's academic progress in their class. Depending on the circumstances, it may be best to schedule a student/parent/teacher conference with the teacher.
4. If you feel that you are in need of additional assistance after speaking with the teacher, it would be best to contact your student's counselor.

How can I best reach my student's counselor?

For extensive information on the Counseling Department, including contact information and resources, go to www.universityhigh.iusd.org/counseling

Email: For quick and easy questions, counselors prefer email since they can respond throughout the day.

Phone: You may call counselors directly; however, counselors may be unavailable due to meetings, presentations, and appointments.

Scheduled Appointment: Now that your student is in high school, we prefer to meet directly with your student. The best way for your student to speak with a counselor in person is to first email their assigned counselor about their concern. Counselors are happy to meet with students before school, during office hours, snack, lunch, or after school for appointments. Students may also schedule an appointment with the Counseling Secretary, Lennette Buckland, either in person or by phone. It is very difficult for counselors to speak with a walk-in parent at length since appointments have priority and schedules fill up quickly. If you have a question or concern, please phone or email your student's counselor.
